

ACODE Executive Officer Report March 2016 ACODE 70.

Welcome to a new year and a new President and new Exec members.

I would personally like to thank Helen Carter as the retiring President of ACODE for all her support during her 4 years of tenure.

Our accounts are in the hands of the auditors and I am hoping that the accounts will be back by the end of the month so that the Annual Report can be completed.

I can now report that the accounts have been audited and have been returned to me today.

In preparation for this meeting the Treasurer, President and I will review these at the Executive meeting on Wednesday 16th March.

If anyone has anything that they would like to add to the annual report please send them to me.

Our Exec has had one meeting this year online and then again prior to ACODE 70 face to face. We have some exciting news regarding the TEL Awards from Pearsons and Helen Carter and Stephen Marshall will elaborate on this during our business meeting.

I am pleased to report that all but 1 institute have paid their membership fees and we are also delighted to have gained Monash College as a member. I have also had an enquiry from Monash University as to the status of their membership and they are looking to renew.

Planning is underway for the Benchmarking Summit in Canberra 27-29th June and you will all be warmly welcomed in Canberra even if the weather is cold.
